

Essay Topics for Applicants to the PhD Program 8D02201 – History

1. Problems of the national idea in modern historiography
2. History and historical personality
3. Theoretical and methodological approaches to studying the problem of the relationship of the Kazakh Khanate with neighboring states
4. The history of the formation of features and commonality of cultural heritage
5. Scientific schools in history: general and difference
6. Politics of historical memory in domestic historiography: tendencies and contradictions
7. Discussions about the problem of statehood in nomadic communities
8. Historical memory as a method of cognition of the past
9. The main categories of historical science
10. New approaches to the fundamental problems of world history
11. Social functions of historical science
12. Commemorative policy (methods and techniques of preserving the memory of the past)
13. The problem of objectivity of historical knowledge
14. The idea of state and power in traditional oral history
15. New trends in foreign historiography
16. Globalization and migration processes in the modern world